MCMXLXIII Volume 63
Number 2

2010 Begins: "Is it twenty ten or is it two thousand and ten?" That was the question asked on Good Morning as I tuned in early Monday morning. I don't know what they decided but either way but here in Winchester the year began in fine fashion. On a bitterly cold winter morning our Bible Study hour was down, but our worship hour bounced back nearly to 400. And what better way to begin a new year than in an hour of prayer on Sunday evening? All in all it was a great day! I am expecting a great year!

Randy Prince: We were pleased that Randy came forward Sunday night and rededicated his life to the Lord. He begins the new year with a new resolve and may we encourage him and all to put the Lord first in every way this year. Randy has been troubled with health issues for months but is beginning to see the light of a new day and better health.

Benevolence: Recently the church helped a husband and wife who moved here, providing food and housing. They attended several times. They have since both gotten jobs in Tullahoma and rented an apartment there. They sent word thanking this congregation for the kindness and help they received.

New book, My Prayer, by Thelma Goodwin: Dale and Thelma Goodwin formerly from Chattanooga have been visiting with us now for several months. Thelma is the author of a new and unique book. It is written in a form to provide a daily diary/journal and prayer for that day with the idea that in time it would provide a personal spiritual history for children or grandchildren. I have a copy and intend to use it in that way.

CHRIST'S BIRTH AND DEATH

A study of the birth and death of Jesus reveals some interesting parallels. Consider the following:

- At both, He was rejected of men (Luke 2:7; Mark 15:15).
- At both, He was cast "outside" (Luke 2:7; Hebrews 13:12).
- At both, Mary was there (Luke 2:7; John 19:26).
- At both, myrrh was present for use upon Him (Matthew 2:11; John 19:39).
- At both, there was darkness (Matthew 2:10, 14; 27:45).
- At both, His body was wrapped in cloth (Luke 2:7, 12; Mark 15:46).
- At both, a Herod becomes curiously involved (Matthew 2:7, 8; Luke 23:7-12).
- At both, wise men recognized His deity (Matthew 2:1-2; Mark 15:39; Luke 23:41).
- At both, Jew and Gentile were there.
- At both, there was worship—the first, genuine, the second, mocking (Matthew 2:11; Luke 2:13-14; Mark 15:19).
- At both, He was hailed as king—one in earnest, the other in jest (Matthew 2:2; Mark 15:26, 32).
- At both, there was an honorable man named Joseph (Matthew 1:19; Luke 2:16; Mark 15:43).
- At both, the chief priests and scribes were involved (Matthew 2:4-6; 27:41; Luke 23:10).

Who is the Architect?

I was passing through Columbus, Ohio some years ago and stopped to eat in the depot restaurant. My attention was called to a slice of watermelon. I ordered it and ate it. I was so pleased with the melon that I asked the waiter to dry some of the seeds that I might take them home and plant them in my garden.

That night, a thought came into my mind—I would use the watermelon as an illustration. So, the next morning, when I reached Chicago, I had enough seeds weighed to find out that it would take about 5,000 watermelon seeds to weigh a pound, and I estimated that the watermelon weighed about forty pounds. Then I applied mathematics to the watermelon.

A few weeks before, someone, I know not who, had planted a little seed in the ground. Under the influence of sunshine and shower, that little watermelon seed had taken off its coat and gone to work. It had gathered from somewhere 200,000 times its own weight and forced that enormous weight through a tiny stem and built a watermelon. On the outside it had put a covering of green, within that rind of white, and within that, a core of red. Then it had scattered through the red core, little seeds, each one capable of doing the same work over again.

What architect drew the plan? Where did that little watermelon seed get its tremendous strength? Where did it find its flavoring extract and its coloring matter? How did it build a watermelon? Until you can explain a watermelon, do not be too sure that you can set limits to the power of the Almighty, or tell just what He will do or how He will do it. The most learned men in the world cannot explain a watermelon, but the most ignorant man in the world can eat a watermelon and enjoy it.

God has given us the things that we need, and He has given us the knowledge necessary to use those things. And the truth that He has revealed to us is infinitely more important for our welfare than it would be to understand the mysteries that He has seen fit to conceal from us.

William Jennings Bryan (1860-1925)

"Love suffers long, and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not puffed up; does not behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not easily provoked, thinks no evil; does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth; bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never fails."
