Attendance: Here is another reason for faithful attendance. An anonymous donor dropped $1.5 million dollars into the collection plate at the 1400 member North Atlanta congregation last fall with a request it be divided up equally among all who were present that Sunday from 1st graders on up, and spent on good works. The next time you think of sleeping in, just think, the same donor might stop by here.

Jim Bill McInteer recently passed away at 88 years old. He was the long time preacher at the West End congregation in Nashville (30 years) and also publisher of the 21st Century Christian and Power For Today.

Online Church? It seems all the world is going technological, even the church. The Concord Rd congregation now streams its worship on the internet. It came in handy last winter when snow left many members homebound. They were able to log on and participate online. Other congregations are looking to copy the practice.

Facebook: I don't know much about it. I joined it simply because it was the only way I could get a look at current pictures of my half-brother I haven't seen in 40 years. I don't participate in it any further than that. But many many folks are active Facebook participants. In a recent editorial an ACU professor writer states that he believes Facebook will kill the church. It is a social networking site on the internet and he believes many will replace the church with Facebook. However, I beg to differ. I no more believe Facebook will replace the church than I believe Wei will replace participant sports. The church offers far more than social networking. The church is about pleasing and praising God, grace and forgiveness, spirituality and eternity. Certainly social networking is a part of the church. We are a church family. But where Facebook is about making friends, the church is about saving friends. Eventually, I may participate on Facebook, but for now, I don't have the time.

Member Spotlight

Ruth Sargent Julian "The Naging Grandma" has lived in Winchester all her life. She was baptized at 16, at the High Street church and attended there until moving to our present location. Ruth has been a hairdresser for 71 of her 88 years. While attending high school she worked in a beauty shop for Mrs. Ellen Lynch as an apprentice until she got her license.

She married Bill Sargent when she was 20. They lived on the road with the Air Force for the first four years. When Bill was sent to different locations, Ruth would find work in a beauty salon. When Bill was sent to India for two years, Ruth moved home with her mother and worked with Frances Custer Looney. After Bill's discharged, he went to work at AEDC; they also purchased a beauty shop just of the square in Winchester. Ruth kept the shop for over 60 years.

Bill & Ruth were married for 10 years before their first child, Sherry, was born. They had 3 other children, Kim, Sandy & Gwyn. Ruth has 9 grandchildren and 1 great-granddaughter.

Bill & Ruth were married 41 years when he passed away. After 4 years as a widow, she married Rexford Julian, Bill's best friend in the Air Force. Ruth was happy again. Rexford was baptized one week before they were married. They took many great trips during their 14 years of marriage. Ruth says, "she feels that she had the best of two worlds."

Ruth states the following; "Ed & Elaine Boggess mean so much to me, Jean Jones and I played together as children and Elaine Rich, I've known from the time she was born and so many others. I love the young people here. I have been giving "Tea Parties" for over 30 years, and also hosted the Christian Scholarship reception with Andy & Diana Groves for 9 years. This program is very important to me. I love this church so much. I am so proud of our new members.

I have lost so many patrons and church friends through death but I know I will see them in heaven along with my grandson Craig Brock."

Thank You Notes

Dear Friends,
Thank you for all you have done for me since being at the Willows at Winchester—the many cards, phone calls, prayers, flowers and visits. They have all been a blessing to me.
May God bless you now and always.

Christian love,
Lollie Blackwood

Dear Church Family,
We want to thank everyone for the donations to the Honduras Medical Mission trip. Two weeks before the trip we were very unsure if we would even have enough meds to conduct our clinics, but God is good and our supply was abundant by the time March 11 rolled around. With your donations of supplies and meds we were able to minister to over 1200 patients in 9 different locations. We appreciate your interest and continued prayers for our Christian friends in Honduras.
Thank you again.

In Him,
Kristy Rogers

By God's laws to man belong.
