MCMXLII Volume 62
 Number 38

Web Site: We are on the internet! In fact we have been for several years due to the hard work of Mike and Di- anne Bass. But in recent times with the growth in need, it became necessary to overhaul and renew the site.

This fell to Oren and Melinda Huffman. If you have not gone online and taken a look at the new site, please take the time to do so. It is more complete and even includes the weekly bulletin, Just-A-Minute audio, and short sermons from Joseph and myself. It is a site we can be proud of and invite friends to visit.

ALL-IN-ONE ~ October 25: Our next All-In-One is the fourth Sunday of this month. It is our Youth Emphasis All-In-One and we ask all to invite as many young people as they can to come and participate. A singing group from Freed-Hardeman will be here and perform after the dinner. The Lord requests your presence.

438: After a few weeks in the high 300's, we returned to the 400 plus range last Sunday. With football games, sickness, travel for various reasons we will cycle through larger and smaller crowds. But our desire is to continue the upward progress both in number and in enthusiasm (a word that comes from Greek that is literally "God is us"). May God be always seen in us in grace, in love, in service, in faith, in all things. A city set on a hill cannot be hid.

Temptation: "I can resist nearly anything except temptation" - so said Oscar Wilde. I was reading a USA-Today article about the ways to prevent catching the flu. It pointed out that it is just as important to avoid touching your face as it is to wash your hands. It said studies show we touch our face from 3 to over 100 times an hour. So I determined to avoid touching my face. In the next few moments I have never had such urges to touch my face! An ear itched, my nose itched, forehead, chin; soon the urge to touch was so consuming it was all I was thinking about. I'm glad no one has made it a sin to touch your face (yet).

Our fall retreat at Camp Ney-a-ti is only two weeks away and I want to encourage all middle school and high school students to come! The theme for the weekend is TRANSFORMERS and the cost for is $40 plus money for a fast food meal on Friday night. We will be taking a late crew up after the football game on Friday night. If you want to come, sign-up on the youth board!

The Sunday after our retreat is Youth Day! This is a special All-In-One geared towards teenagers (adults will like it too!). To our teenagers: bring your friends! To our parents: invite families with teens! To our older members: bring your grand-kids! Let's make this an uplifting day that blesses the young people of our church and community!
